

ARC Foundation is seeking new Trustees

Closing date: 8th September 2019 @ midnight

Asylum Research Centre Foundation (ARC Foundation) undertakes research, advocacy and training to improve the quality of refugee status determination and to ensure that those in need of international protection are recognized as such. The charity's activities include, but are not limited to, undertaking research and raising awareness of human rights issues through country of origin information (COI) research.

ARC Foundation has secured funding for a range of projects and is now seeking Trustees to join its Board to play an integral part in providing relevant guidance and strategic direction to the charity.

In addition to the qualities needed by all board members<sup>1</sup>, we are particularly interested in applications from individuals who possess one or more of the following skills:

- Strong interest in human rights and commitment to ARC Foundation's objectives
- Familiarity with asylum and human rights claims made by unaccompanied minors and young people
- Successful track record in fundraising

We welcome applications from all ages and backgrounds.

This is a voluntary, unremunerated role for one year initially (renewable). The Board of Trustees meets at least twice a year in London, but reasonable travel expenses will be met.

For more information, or to send your CV with a short statement about why you are interested and how you meet the role's requirements email:
